

The key issue for us as a golf tour operator is the ability to provide a full and reliable service to our clients. After giving this matter a great deal of consideration it emerged that the most effective way to ensure this would be to provide private property rentals by using the services of British run property management companies who operate solely in the Ayamonte/Islandilla/El Portil/Huelva area. We believe that such companies can provide a number of key benefits to our clients and to you as property owners such as a good knowledge of the region, reliable cleaning/laundry/keyholding/security services, experience in dealing with the needs of British guests, UK banking facilities (which removes the expense of foreign currency transactions), and an overall ease of interaction due to the lack of language barriers etc.

With these issues in mind we have negotiated advertising arrangements with 2 Costa de la Luz based property management companies. We intend advertising properties managed by either of these companies within the property rental pages of our website and intend placing our golfing clients in these properties as soon as possible. Although good search engine results are not an instantaneous event, do bear in mind that since optimising our website our search engine results on all the major search engines are very good, with high-ranking results for generic terms such as “golf holiday spain” and “golf holiday”. Results for more specific terms such as “Costa de la Luz” or “Isla Canela” are even better – just take a look at our placing on your favourite search engine. We will apply the same optimisation techniques to the new pages showcasing your property, and would expect that the results within a few months will equal, or better, those for the other pages in our site. We will be dealing only with the 2 companies whose details you will find below to provide rental options for our golfing clients.

Both property management companies are run by British property experts with whom we have had extensive dealings with in the last 18 months, and we have absolutely no hesitation in recommending either company to you for your property management requirements. Please contact them to secure your property management requirements and to ensure that your property is advertised with Golf de la Luz – the leader in Costa de la Luz golf holidays.
